

Policy subsidies for microgrid solar container projects

Overview

Upfront grants are vital for deploying solar microgrids, overcoming high initial costs and accelerating energy access. Purpose of this Guide This guide is intended to provide recipients of 40101(d) grid resilience formula grants with:. These grants often come with a focus on community empowerment, capacity building, and long-term sustainability. The Inflation Reduction Act (IRA), enacted in 2022, established a set of energy-related asset categories that are now being directly subsidized by the federal government. Numerous state and federal statutes and non-legislative state actions, such as governors' directives, have focused on the deployment of resilience investments, such as microgrids, as a tool to help mitigate the impacts of power outages, integrate more clean energy within the grid, support more. In April 2023, the CPUC approved a $200 million Microgrid Incentive Program (MIP) to support the development of clean Community Microgrids in DVCs.
