

Solar container welding mold

Overview

Selecting the right mold, weld metal and tools for your application is critical. We have designed over 45,000 connections, and "specials" are designed every day. As the industry leader in exothermic products for grounding, bonding and lightning protection, we offer patented (UltraShot®) technology that utilizes a copper container which becomes part of the connection. Exothermic molds used in the UltraShot process have been proven to last several times.
